

Read to avoid watching T-20

A book can be your best friend. Especially at a time when your team is not doing that well. So Preity Zinta found solace in the pages of a mythical revenge drama at Mohali on April 16 during her team King's XI Punjab's match against Kolkata Knight Riders. Preity who has been playing good samaritan of late did make a spirited entry into the stadium and looked earnest as she cheered on her team. But when fortunes started see-sawing, she chose the zen approach. As for Ashwin Sainghi, author of the bestselling Chanakya's Chant, he has been over-the-moon with this celebrity endorsement. First Amish's Rs 5 crore deal, now this thumbs up for Ashwin, to be soon followed by his own brother Kelan's novel, the competition is hotting up for you-know-who. We're sure he has a godzilla bestseller coming up.
